WITH THE GLAD HAND

State Teachers Hospitably Entertained in Great Falls.

HUNDREDS IN THE CITY

Extra Cars Attached to Regular Trains—Large Meeting in the Central School Assembly Hall Last Night.

Great Falls, Dec. 29.—It was with old-fashioned hospitality that Great Falls extended the hand of hearty welcome to the Montana State Teachers' association to-day. Quite a number arrived this morning but the majority came in on the afternoon train, which carried an extra car for their accommodation. The hotels were crowded to suffocation and the lobbies presented most animated scenes. The assembly hall in the Central school has just been completed and the electric lights were placed in position yesterday, and even its large capacity will be taxed by the number who will attend the meetings of the convention.

There are in the city to-night nearly 200 members and others are expected before the convention adjourns Thursday. The officers of the state association are: President, R. G. Young; vice president, H. E. Wolfe; secretary, Mrs. Nettie E. O'Donnell; executive committee, J. P. Hendricks, Rev. James Reid, Verna Olds Young and Mamie Innes. Among the members present from out of town were: James Reid, W. W. Wylie, Miss L. D. DeBord, Bertha Miller, Nellie B. and Annie E. Glancey, Sophia E. Curtiss, Helen Wylund, Kate Murphy, Miss Sutton, Miss Simpson, Oliver Jones, Harriet Horde, Rose Blake, Cecilia Huddleston, Hattie Hill, Miss Williams, Miss Magness, Mrs. Doehner, Miss Smith, Adelaide Storey, Lolla Holmes, Miss Keenan, Mary Potts, Lena Nash, Ida M. Roberts, Josie E. Duke, Ella Spofford, Lizzie Evans, Helen Hansen, Mrs. A. L. Boyd, Elizabeth Framing, Anna Larkin, Anna Trevalle, Hannah B. Eddy, Ophelia A. Solze, Lillian Stevens, Mrs. W. Brantley, Mrs. M. A. Brown, Mrs. DeCamp, Genevieve V. Flanagan, Margaret E. Shoemaker, Nettie O'Donnell, Verna Olds Young, Mamie Innes, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Harman, S. H. Garvin, C. M. Charles, F. E. Greene, M. L. Fitzgerald, M. J. Broughton, Richard Lockyer of the Helena school board, G. T. Brantley, D. C. Van Buren, S. A. Remington, A. G. Stars, J. O. Madden, M. A. Cantwell, W. H. Williams, W. H. Cobleigh, F. W. Traphagen, Louis Terwilliger, A. J. Walrath, B. C. Hastings, M. A. Stapleton, J. E. Klock, J. C. Templeton, W. A. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Steer, H. O. Hull, W. A. Oiler, H. E. Wolfe, D. J. Craig, P. L. Curran, J. G. McKay, J. E. Bell, Miss Virginia Turrell and many others, who are being entertained by friends.

At 8 o'clock the big assembly room at the Central school building, which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion, was filled with the members and friends. The convention was called to order by the president, R. G. Young, of Helena.

The exercises of the evening were opened with music by a double quartet consisting of Misses Trigg, Kingsbury, Eva P. Connor, Sarah N. E. Wolfe, and Messrs. Wilcox, Elliot, Craig and Coleman. Miss Woodbury was organist. The first selection was "The Song of the Vikings," which was heartily applauded. This was followed by Mayor Webster in an address of welcome. As representative of the city Mr. Webster extended to them all the most hearty welcome, telling them that everything was theirs and if they did not see what they wanted ask for it. Mr. Webster also spoke of the arduous profession of teaching, which carried with it a great duty and small pay. The mayor's remarks were to the point and he was heartily applauded. Miss Genevieve Flanagan of Fort Benton made an able response to the mayor's welcome, and in behalf of all her fellow teachers thanked him for his gracious welcome. Miss Flanagan said that no better place for holding the convention than Great Falls could have been chosen.

The male quartet then rendered "A Toast to the Teachers," which was endorsed, as were all the musical selections. An eloquent and witty address was then delivered by Rev. N. W. Moore, pastor of the Congregational church. Mr. Moore took for the leading idea of his address "The Great Teacher," an idea which he developed at some length, showing how, in the past, events had turned and history had fashioned itself upon the action of some one man. "Every person," said Mr. Moore, "is a pivotal person, no matter who or what they are, and around them revolve some lines, and particularly is this true of the school teacher whose influence is great and vital." Mr. Moore was listened to with great attention and his address heartily applauded.

The response to Mr. Moore's address was made by Miss Staves of Helena, whose witty hits were received with laughter. Miss Staves said she supposed she had been selected to make the response from the well-known fact that a woman was always able to say something. She heartily endorsed the sentiments expressed by the mayor and Mr. Moore and spoke of the excellent effect of the spirit of enthusiasm which the members of the convention carried home with them. After another selection by the quartet the following appointments were announced: Secretary, Miss Calwell of Bozeman; assistant secretary, Miss Nash of Miles City; enrolling committee, Miss Ford of Missoula; Miss Stevenson of Butte, Professor Light of Great Falls; committee on music, Miss Trigg of Great Falls, Miss Kenan of Dillon, Mrs. Harrison of Helena, Professor McKay of Butte, Mr. Williams of Bozeman.

After this part of the programme had been completed the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in a social way. A recitation by Miss Murray

Great Falls, Dec. 29.—The tenth annual meeting of the Montana Society of Civil Engineers will be held in this city Friday and Saturday, Jan. 8 and 9. The following programme has been arranged: Friday morning all members of the society and invited guests will visit the mines, where an inspection will be made of the coal mines, coal washers, coke ovens and the entire plant of the Anaconda company at that camp. Those desiring to attend this excursion should take the train passing through Helena at 12:30 p. m. on Jan. 7, or 1:45 a. m. Jan. 8, arriving at Great Falls at 4:10 p. m. Jan. 7, or at 9:45 a. m. Jan. 8, respectively.

On Saturday morning a business meeting will be held in the Park hotel. In the afternoon a visit will be made to the copper smelter and water power plants and in the evening two hours is set apart for the discussion of the following papers: "The Consumption of Timber for Mining Purposes in Montana," by Charles W. Goodale; "Compensation of Engineers," by M. S. Parker; "Black Eagle Falls Dam," by M. S. Parker.

Later in the evening a grand banquet will be served in the dining room of the Park hotel and toasts will be responded to by well-known speakers from different parts of the state.

It is expected this will be one of the most interesting and instructive meetings in the history of the society and civil engineers from all parts of Montana will be in attendance.

NEIHART'S REQUEST.

The Citizens Are for Annexation to Cascade County.

Great Falls, Dec. 29.—Referring to the annexation of the Neihart and Barker mining districts to Cascade county, the Bellevue Times says: "Among the bills to be presented in the coming session of the legislature will be one to annex that part of Meagher county in which lies Barker and Neihart to Cascade county. The residents of the two camps are nearly unanimous in favor of annexation and we believe the people of Cascade county would welcome it. The section of country proposed for annexation is rich in mineral wealth, is self-sustaining and not liable to become a burden upon the county. Therefore, as far as this county is concerned, the acquisition of the territory should be desirable. The people of Neihart and Barker have many good reasons for seeking annexation from Meagher county and annexation to Cascade county. At present in order to reach the county seat the residents of these towns have to make an overland trip of from 40 to 65 miles over a mountainous road that nine months of the year is impassable, thus causing great inconvenience and hardship. When Cascade county was created this section was supposed to be a part of it, as it evidently should have been, and the people have since felt as if they were 'roosting in a coop other than their own.'"

A QUIET SESSION.

The Aldermen Meet and Do a Little City Business.

Great Falls, Dec. 29.—There was a full attendance at the council meeting last night and there was an entire absence of anything like nervousness on the part of the aldermen. The water question was carefully avoided and no allusion was made to mandamus proceedings or the like. The city clerk made his semi-annual report and the city treasurer reported that he had collected $20,000.57 from taxpayers, with about $2,000 delinquent.

The city engineer was authorized to prosecute all violators of the sidewalk ordinance. A warrant was ordered drawn for $6.50 to pay a judgment incurred by the park purchase. The following gentlemen were appointed delegates to the convention to be held in Helena Monday, Jan. 11, at which time amendments to the codes relative to city matters will be considered: Aldermen Fitzgerald and Thompson, City Engineer Swearingen, City Clerk Clark, City Attorney Stephenson and City Treasurer Frary. Alderman Mitchell was appointed alternate.

Burglary on Christmas.

Great Falls, Dec. 29.—Christmas night while the family were absent burglars entered the Egloff residence at 715 Fourth avenue north and gathered up a large amount of silverware and valuable bric-a-brac. They also gathered in a pocketbook containing some money and a certificate of deposit for $50 from the servant girl. Entrance was effected through a lower window. The matter was at once reported to the police and they went in order to allow detectives to round up the culprits. As yet no clue has been found.

A Royal Wedding.

Washington, Dec. 29.—The marriage of Miss Louise Bonaparte and the Count de Moltke Huitfeldt of Denmark took place to-day in St. Paul's church. Owing to the recent death of the groom's father, the ceremony, which was to be quite an elaborate affair, was changed, and it was very quiet, only the immediate friends and relatives attending. The ceremony was followed by a breakfast to a limited number of friends at the Bonaparte residence on K street.

MOVEMENTS OF OFFICIALS

Mr. Lewis Goes to Helena to Help Make Laws—Range Cattle Killed on the Railroad Track—Personal Mention.

Glasgow, Mont., Dec. 29.—Hon. R. N. Lewis, representative from Valley county, will leave Friday for Helena to spend the winter. He is a clever young man and the interests of his constituents will be well represented in the legislature during the approaching session. Charles E. Hall will spend a month or two in Helena during the session and will be glad to render his friends service during his sojourn in the capital city.

Ex-Sheriff James Deegan will perform the duties of under sheriff for Sheriff Kyle until the latter has become familiar with the duties of the office. The two make a strong team and will straighten out several kinks said to exist now in that department of the county government.

Joe McKenney is in Glasgow from Malta and will remain during the winter, as will Bill Enright, who has fixed up for the winter on his plantation near town. Scotty McLeod is recovering from a severe wound on his cheek caused by carelessly handling an old axe.

Bob Hurbold is in town from Great Falls and is greeting his old-time friends for a few days.

Los Blackman, manager of the Home Land & Cattle company, has been traveling up and down the Great Northern road for several days ascertaining the number of cattle killed by trains during the November storms. He reports heavy losses in this way and says that at one section house during the blizzard 13 range cattle were killed.

Alex Trexler of Wolf Point was brought to Glasgow a few days ago and confined in jail pending an examination of his mental condition. Two weeks ago Mr. Trexler was thrown from a horse and fell on his head. Since that time he has not been in his right mind. He is comfortably fixed as far as this world's goods are concerned and it is hoped by his family and friends that the cure he shall receive at Warm Springs will soon restore him to his former strength of mind.

ON THE SAFE SIDE.

Gallatin County's Cash Is Secured by an Indemnity Bond.

Special Correspondence of the Standard. Bozeman, Dec. 29.—In a number of articles recently published in different state papers mention has been made of the necessity for county treasurers securing an indemnifying bond, of all kinds, which they shall deposit moneys belonging to the state and in many instances particular attention has been called to the fact that but a small portion of the counties of this state are secured by such a bond. The section of the new codes referring to this seems to make it imperative, and the fact that in many instances been neglected by county commissioners and treasurer alike.

It is therefore with no little pride that County Treasurer W. C. Newton and the board of county commissioners for Gallatin county point to the fact that Gallatin county was probably the first county in Montana to comply with this law, such a bond having been in force here since a few weeks after the new codes became the law. On March 13, 1895, an indemnifying bond was approved by the board of county commissioners for $50,000, securing the deposits for this county held by the Bozeman National bank of this place and this was followed on July 13, 1895, by a bond for $100,000, given by the Commercial National bank of Bozeman to County Treasurer Newton. These bonds are still in effect here and upon County Treasurer Newton's resignation his new term other bonds will take their places, amply securing the money of Gallatin county held by the banks of this city.

The board of county commissioners for Gallatin county can consider this foresight of theirs, which placed them in the lead in the securing of an indemnifying bond, as quite a feather in their caps. Gallatin county's interests have been carefully watched by the present board and in a progressive businesslike manner which calls forth the commendation of the people of this county.

Miss Belle Douglass, a young woman who has been employed as a waitress about the city here for some time past, was found in a critical condition at her room in the Calfee house last night. She had become despondent, being out of work and had swallowed laudanum. Her life was saved by the prompt use of a stomach pump.

Dr. F. W. Traphagen of the chemical department of the Agricultural college, his assistant, Prof. W. M. Cobleigh, Prof. W. H. Williams, Miss Olive Jones and Miss M. A. Cantwell left on Tuesday morning for Great Falls to attend the State Teachers' association at that place. President James Reid of the college left on Monday for Great Falls, where he will remain until Saturday.

W. A. Downing, a college student who acts as janitor for the business department of the college, came very near to losing his life the last of the year in a very peculiar and simple action upon his part. While on his duties he had occasion to get upon a stool and when through he jumped to the floor, a distance of only three feet. He became ill immediately and it was found the slight jar of striking the floor when he had jumped had hurt him internally. Doctors believing the intestines had been kinked, that for a time it was thought an operation would be necessary. Later, however, Mr. Downing began to improve and is now on the way to recovery, although still a very sick young man.

E. M. Gardner, L. S. Wilson and Rev. John A. Stevens were on Monday subpoenaed to appear before the district court now in session at Phillipsburg as witnesses in the case of John Axtell, formerly a resident of this city. They were called as character witnesses to testify to the good name of Mr. Axtell during his residence in this city. He having been arrested for an apparent shortage in his accounts. They left for Phillipsburg on Tuesday morning.

Ernest Baker, a type in the Bozeman Chronicle office, on Monday left for Helena to take a position with the State Publishing company. He will operate a Mergenthaler during the coming session of the legislature for this company. Miss Ida Olive Wiggins, a colored servant girl working for Nelson Story, jr., of this place, was taken sick on Friday and died Sunday evening. She had come from St. Louis, Mo., to work for the Storys, having been employed in the family of Mrs. Story's parents there since her girlhood and her body was shipped to St. Louis on Tuesday morning. The cause of her death was quick consumption.

W. J. Stevenson, the "Judge," has gone to St. Paul on business which will keep him away from Bozeman until some time in January.

Harry H. Howland returned the last of the week from Butte and has taken a position with the Bozeman Chronicle for the winter.

Fred E. Eldredge of Hamilton, with his family, visited Bozeman on Tuesday.

THE MARKETS.

New York, Dec. 29.—Although the stock market to-day failed to display any improvement over the recent light records of business a stronger tone was apparent, chiefly on covering of shorts. There was a continued absence of commission business, and the rally was inspired by more cheerful advices in relation to the western bank situation, a reported easier trend to money on London and a weaker tendency in the market for foreign exchange.

Boston Wool Market.

Boston, Dec. 29.—The wool market here continues quiet with the volume of sales ruling moderate and not much activity is expected until after the new year. There is nothing in the market to make it look as if prices would advance at present. Dealers are not inclined to make any concessions, although a move of half a cent in this direction has made some fair-sized blocks change hands. Territory wool continues quiet and most of the sales consist of small lots. Fair lines are selling at 30 1/2 to 32 on the scored basis, but good staple lots will range between 31 1/2 and 32. Fine wools are quiet and are at rather higher prices. Australian wools are firm and selling all the time at full prices.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

The Housekeepers' league is perfecting the details of the plan to introduce cooking into the public schools in January.

At a meeting of one of the large English insurance companies it was shown that more than 2,000,000 had been paid out for deaths due to influenza.

Illinois leads all the states in the increase of votes since 1892. Its gain was 26,175. Pennsylvania's 16,128. New York's 17,162. and Ohio's 16,728.

As a last call the legislature of New York is informed that if it will only "blow in" just $1,000,000 more the great Albany capitol will be completed. Up to date this mammoth toy has only cost $2,633,551.

Such a demand for American cotton has sprung up in Japan and China that it pays to ship the product from the cotton states all the way to San Francisco by rail and there put it aboard vessels for its destination.

Boston is spending $7,000,000 on a subway more than a mile long, and has arranged to lease it at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent. interest on that amount. The city obtains the money at 3 1/2 per cent. and the margin will pay off the principal.

There are 32 penitentiaries and more than 17,000 jails in the United States. It cost $500,000,000 to build them. Over 300,000 persons were incarcerated in the year 1892. The criminal expense to the country is not less than $100,000,000 annually.

There is a growing tendency in England to give certain concerts at prices which put them within the reach of everybody. For instance, at a recent performance of "Elizah" at the People's Palace in the east end of London the admission fee was only 6 cents.

Almost all of the $2,000 appropriated by the state of Iowa for the payment of the expenses of members of the Second and Third Infantry regiments, who were compelled to change their gray uniforms to blue ones during the early days of the war, lies unclaimed in the state treasury. From the Hawkins county, Tennessee, marble quarries an old colored man who regularly hauls the output to Whitesburg drew the other day a block weighing 25,200 pounds. He used 12 mule teams. The block contained 10 feet, and his pay, which is by the foot, amounted to $9.

There is only one scientific definition for the term beer—it signifies a European by descent, whose vernacular is the Taal and who uses familiarly not literary European language. It does not denote race, but nationality; the beer may be English, Dutch, German or any other blood—nothing does it of necessity denote any occupation; the beer is often a farmer and stock owner, but he may also be a hunter, trader or of any other occupation.

Strictly First Class.

From Judge. Evidently he was a country barber on a tear, and his name was Barnum Lathers and he was going to have a good time if it cost the whole three dollars. He went into Dutch Pete's on Eighth avenue and called for a cup of coffee and a sandwich. There was quite a crowd in and it was a good time to show off.

"Waiter," he roared, and when the waiter appeared he angrily pointed at his cup and snorted, "See that fly in that cup!"

"By George!" said the waiter, and got the boss. He came slowly up to the table, gazed at the fly, and then sent the waiter after the cook and his assistant.

"Oh, never mind," said the blushing countryman; "I don't care." For the curious eaters were leaving their tables to see what all the commotion was about.

"But I care," said Pete. "Go and get a board."

A board about six feet long was brought and the fly was fished out and the cook solemnly laid him in the center of it, and a procession was formed to carry him out.

"How much is my bill? I guess I better be going," said the blushing countryman.

"Not a cent," said Pete; "and don't be afraid to come here when you want to. This shan't occur again." And as the customer vanished through the door, energized by the laughter behind him, Pete yelled:

"Remember, they can't no-fly run this establishment."
